

Trades Have No Gender Assignment

In this activity we are going to explore how Trades Have No Gender.

There are 2 parts to this activity and the learning is two-fold:

1. research a Skilled Trade Career and examine which high school courses you should take to help you acquire the skills needed for this trade.
2. create a poster to advertise that trade to all genders.

Part 1: Exploring a Trade

In this activity, you will examine 1 skilled trade career and which technological education course(s) would aid in developing insight and skills for this career.

Career Choice: _____

Click the Explore the Trades link

You will be able to gather this from the website link above.

Go to the table data at the bottom of the page, search your career and then under the right column of the table, click on the 'Trade related job profiles'. This will take you to another page.

Questions	Your answer
What is the job description?

What sector does this job fall under? Construction / Motive Power / Industrial / Service
Does this career have an apprenticeship?	Yes / No
What does on the job training involve? Discuss 3 points.	1. 2. 3.
Discuss education and training pathways.
List 5 of the in-demand skills and knowledge.	1. 2. 3. 4. 5.
Do you think this career can lead you to own your own business (if you should choose to)?
Click the Exploring Technological Courses in High School link
What High School Course(s) are valuable to take for this career? Ex. Construction and Technological Design
Give a brief description of the course.

On the subject specific page, examining the List of careers this pathways can lead to. List 2 other careers that are similar to your initial career choice.	1. 2.
Click on the 3D tour and note 5 items that were found in that classroom.	1. 2. 3. 4. 5.

Part 2: Advertising a Trade

For this part you are to create a poster to advertise your chosen trade to all genders.

You have a choice to create your poster in the following ways:

- Create your poster digitally using any available software.
- Create your poster using cut out magazine pieces and collaging a final image together
- Draw a poster using any available medium (pencil crayons, paint, markers etc).

You can choose to use the frame on the next page, or use your own paper.

Your advertisement must have the following on it:

- Tagline / slogan along the lines of 'The Trades Have No Gender'
- If individuals are shown, there must display multiple genders
- The poster must relate to your chosen career from Part 1.

